

A GOOD REASON TO JOIN CARMECHANICA

SMART WEBSITES

Every business needs a website and most independent workshops have one, but are you using yours effectively?

Consumers search for and engage with websites mostly using their mobile phones. Around 70% of the time and growing. Is your business website mobile responsive? Ask us about a free, simple test you can do to find out.

Since Google is by far the world's most popular search engine, they control a lot of what consumers actually find online. Google has all kinds of rules around websites. So, unless your website is Google-friendly, your business ranking and display is likely to get penalised and be harder to find.

How CarMechanica can help:

We build a Google-optimised website on the CarMechanica platform specifically for your business, using your existing business name. It will load fast and work perfectly on mobile phones as well as desktops. Our websites have the right security and back links and your site will be search engine optimised. Sounds pretty technical doesn't it, because it is, so why would you want to be the one dealing with that? We'll even throw in free, ongoing tech support should you need it.
